Come Trick-or-Treating at the Library on October 30!

The library will be participating in Somers Beggars' Night as a tick-or-treat stop this year! Our doors will open at 5:30pm on October 30, and we will stay open until 7pm.

We will be offering candy, snacks, games, and crafts. This is a come-and-go event, so please stop in as you're able during Beggars' Night. We look forward to seeing everyone's creative and spooky costumes!

Web-Cal "Windows 10" Class on October 17 Marcie Boerner from Webster-Calhoun will be providing another technology class at the library on Wednesday, October 17 at 2:00pm. Her topic this month will be "Windows 10."

If you use Windows 10 at home or at work and have questions, please join us! Feel free to bring your own laptop if you have one, and as always, come with your questions – Marcie is eager to share her tech tips!

LEGO Club to meet on October 11!

We had a great first LEGO Club meeting last month and look forward to meeting again on October 11 at 5:00pm. All children ages 6 and up are encouraged to join us for an afternoon of building and sharing ideas!

Embroidery Class on October 20

Anyone interested in learning how to embroider is welcome to join a Beginner's Embroidery Class on October 20 at 10:00am.

No experience is necessary to participate and all materials will be supplied. This is an excellent, no-cost opportunity to discover whether a new hobby may be in your future!

New Books! The following books are new at the library!

Small Great Things by Jodi Picoult

- An African American nurse finds herself in a public court trial after performing CPR on the ailing infant of a white supremacist couple. Picoult's novel is a thought-provoking story that examines racism and privilege in America.

Big Little Lies by Liane Moriarty

- Moriarty's novel follows three women who grapple with motherhood, divorce, ugly rumors, and the fallout of little lies that turn big.

The Restless Wave by John McCain

- The personal memoir of John McCain and his time in public service.
